

Pete Michaels Intro.

(Please Read As Written.)

"Celebrity Ventriloquist" may be an unlikely goal to aspire to, but Pete Michaels has earned the title.

A native of New York City, his sweeping career spans decades and includes live appearances at major comedy clubs and casinos around the country. TV stints on Comedy Central, Late Night With Conan O'Brien, and Showtime At The Apollo, and training work with the likes of Adrien Brody and Judith Roberts on the major motion pictures Dummy and Dead Silence.

Most recently, Michaels was honored at the International Ventriloquist Convention with the W.S. Berger Distinguished Service Award for Outstanding Contributions to the Art of Ventriloquism, and appears (alongside three members of his 8-puppet posse) in MGMT's video for their hit "Flash Delirium." The video was nominated for Best Rock Video at the MTV Video Music Awards.

That's right kids. He's made ventriloquism hip again.

An accomplished Stand-up Comedian and Ventriloquist, please welcome MR. PETE MICHAELS.
